DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 88, 101-106, 109, and 111 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent 6,829,237 (hereinafter referred as “Carson”).

Regarding claims 88, 101, 105, 109, and 111, Carson discloses An Internet Protocol (IP) packet router system (see Figs. 14 and 15, col. 10, lines 21-51, and col. 11, lines 4-15), said system comprising:

- (a) at least one chunk having a payload comprising a plurality of data packets and a framing symbol (see col. 1, lines 41-58);
- (b) an IP packet router (see Figs. 14 and 15, col. 1, lines 18-31), including:
 - (b1) an optical switch fabric through which said chunk passes (see Figs. 7, 8, 16, col. 8, lines 29-38);
 - (b2) a first electrical switch stage at an input side of said optical switch fabric and a second electrical switch stage at an output side of said switch fabric (see Figs. 7, 8, and 16, col. 8, lines 3-38, 29-38).

Regarding claims 102-104, Carson discloses the chunk header includes ID of chunk type (see col. 1, lines 41-67).

Regarding claim 106, Carson discloses said chunk header includes identification of an input of said optical switch fabric and an output of said optical switch fabric for said chunk (see col. 1, lines 41-67).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 90, 94, and 95 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent 6,829,237 (hereinafter referred as "Carson") in view of US Patent 6,633,564 (hereinafter referred as "Steer").

Regarding claim 90, Carson does not disclose framing symbol has a length of 16 bytes. However, Steer discloses framing symbol has a length of 16 bytes (see Fig. 3a, col. 8, lines 27-31). At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to combine the framing symbol teaching by Steer with Carson. The motivation for doing so would have been to provide a communication network with an efficient for interrupting the transmission read on column 2, lines 36-37. Therefore, it would have been obvious to combine Steer and Carson to obtain the invention as specified in the claim 90.

Regarding claim 94, Carson does not disclose FEC coding. However, Steer discloses the FEC coding (see Figs. 3a and 4, elements 31, 39, 43, 46, col. 6, lines 2-4). At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to combine the FEC coding teaching by Steer with Carson. The motivation for doing so would have been to provide a communication network with an efficient for interrupting the transmission read on column 2, lines 36-37. Therefore, it would have been obvious to combine Steer and Carson to obtain the invention as specified in the claim 94.

Regarding claim 95, Carson does not disclose FEC field. However, Steer discloses the FEC field (see Figs. 2, 3a, and 4, element 31, col. 1, lines 30-34, and col. 8, lines 27-31). At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to combine the FEC field teaching by Steer with Carson. The motivation for doing so would have been to provide a communication network with an efficient for interrupting the transmission read on column 2, lines 36-37. Therefore, it would have been obvious to combine Steer and Carson to obtain the invention as specified in the claim 95.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 63-87 and 112-125 are allowed.
7. Claims 89, 91-93, 96-100, 107, 108, and 110 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 88, 94, 95, 101-106, 109, and 111 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
